Opening

Palais Royal,

Opinion of Merchants: Notwithstanding the snow of this morning the opening display of Spring Dress Goods was attended by the agents of the leading merchants, who were very evidently impressed with the magnitude of our '94 sollection.

What Modistes Say: The leading modistes were more than satisfied. One said: "There will be no occasion for me to go outside of Washington for anything in dress goods." Partly a Failure.

But the first day of the "Opening" is a failure in respect to the attendance of the general public-doubtless the weather is to "Buyers'" Request. The buyers of the various branches of the department respectfully request your presence tomorrow, promising the very latest and correct Paris and London spring styles in silk, silk and wool, silk and cotton, all wool and all cotton dress fabrics—the most complete collection ever gathered under one roof in Washington.

The Fashion Plates. Here, too, are the last fashion plates from Europe everything for your instruction. convenience and comfort.

You Needn't Buy. You are asked to an exhibition, rather than a sale. You will find the clerks as interested as you will be looking through the stock, which is as new to them as to you.

THE WHEELMEN'S FAIR.

The Entertainment to Open at the W. L. I. Armory Tonight. wheelmen of Washington and their friends will gather in the Washington Light Infantry Armory Hall tonight to cpen the fair of the Georgetown Cycle Club. Not only for tonight, but for the rest of the week and perhaps even longer will the cyclers hold sway, entertaining their friends with music and dancing, bicycle displays and delicate refreshments, while consigning their guests to the tender care of hosts of pretty maidens. The business men of the city have been more than liberal in the donation of prizes; everybody has done what they could to help on the good cause. Two-thirds of the proceeds of the fair are to go to the fund for securing a bicycle track, which the wheelmen of this city have been so long in need of. The money thus going toward the general good of the cycling interests of Washington the other cycle clubs of the city have, of course, given their hearty support to the fair.

The local bicycle dealers will all have stands where they will make a display of their stock and show off the points of their steeds to the public.

Among the prizes which will be open to the public in a general voting contest are a Columbia safety bicycle, an Elk racing bicycle, a Victor fiyer (open to High School students only), a gold watch, a phonograph, a full dress suit, a diamond pin, a club banner (open to cycle organizations only), a plano lamp and a large French doll.

The stands have all been erected, the hall proceeds of the fair are to go to the fund doll.

The stands have all been erected, the hall has been gaily decorated with flags and bunting and special features have been provided to enliven the program for each night. Tonight the fair will be opened by a new march dedicated to the Georgetown Cycle Club, followed by an address by Prof. E. B. Hay, concert music by Prof. Goodman, and a cornet solo by Mr. Elphonzo Youngs, ir, Tomorrow will be High School night, when a high school uniform will admit free to the hall. Besides the regular features there will be fancy bicycle and unicycle riding by Mr. Howard A. Rhine. Wednesday night will be Cycle Club night, when Mr. Rhine will also ride.

The Committees.

The Committees. The fair committee consists of Messrs George W. Cook, chairman; R. B. Clokey, C. R. Jones, G. Owen Davis, C. R. Murray C. H. Fletcher, E. A. Pitkin, G. Grant Armour, T. M. Stearn, L. O. Slack, H. R. Stocks and B. B. Hunt.

No Mercy on Crap Shooters.

"Crap shooters" who are caught by the police fare worse than most petty offenders who reach Judge Kimball's court. The judge has settled upon $10 as the amount of fine in ordinary "crap-shooting" cases, and exceptions are only made in cases where the offenders are almost too young to be tried. In their cases the fine is sometimes made $5. Several colored boys were times made $5. Several colored boys were tried today and the police produced the "bones" used in the games. In one of the cases two of the boys actually plead guility. They were small boys and it being their first appearance they were let off on the lowest amount of fine imposed in such cases. The other boys of course denied the charge. While they admitted that they were in or near the crowd, they denied that they participated in the game. But that made no difference so far as the court was concerned, for Judge Kimball said that the boys must keep out of the crowds if they don't want to be fined. The $10 fine was assessed against each of the defendants except in the case of the two boys mentioned.
